

SCITUATE LAND TRUST PROPERTY: LAWTON FARM

Scituate Conservation Commission &
Scituate Land Trust

*"WORKING TO CONSERVE
SCITUATE'S NATURAL & COMMUNITY RESOURCES"*

The Scituate Conservation Commission exists to help the community and its citizens sustain their environment and quality of life while meeting their economic needs.

We are a non-regulatory, town organization dedicated to:

- Identifying and conserving Scituate's important natural resources;
- Improving the knowledge base from which land use and natural resource decisions are made;
- Building local capacity to protect and manage natural resources as our town grows;
- Conserving our town's unique community character;
- Continuing the Town's legacy as the steward of the state's primary drinking water supply—the Scituate Reservoir.

For More Information

Contact:
Scituate

Conservation Commission
P.O. Box 328
North Scituate, RI 02857
647-2822

LAWTON FARM WALK

Access: From Scituate Avenue (Rt. 12), head south on Seven Mile Road 6/10 of a mile to the Lawton Farm entrance sign on the west (right) side of the road. Follow dirt entrance road to the end for parking and access to trail head.

Trail: From the parking lot, head west and then north around a small field to the first stream crossing. Cross the stream over rocks and head west along south edge of field. As you approach the edge of a woodland, turn right and follow trail along westerly edge of field. Keep an eye out for some nice American beech trees on your left (or you can follow the trail into the woodland for a ½ mile loop). You will walk gradually uphill for about 700 feet. At northwesterly edge of field, turn right and walk along northerly edge of field. You will walk past old stone walls and some nice Eastern red cedar trees and Black walnut. Walk to the second stream crossing, over a culvert, and then continue on the trail to the northwestern corner of the front hayfield. Turn east (left) and follow the trail parallel with Seven Mile Rd, back to the parking lot along the dirt entrance road.

